

BIANCA MARIA CURTI

Professional Highlights:

From November 1976, soon after earning my diploma from the School for Interpreters and Translators, to March 1986, I was employed with mechanical and oil companies and with two US primary banks as an executive secretary and translator. Since then, I have been working exclusively as a free-lance translator and interpreter. At present, I have dropped the interpreting activity and focus exclusively on translation. I work directly for companies and cooperate with a number of translation firms that include worldwide leading companies in their customer portfolio. I have acquired my comprehensive 40-year long experience in many sectors, among which, but not limited to:

<ul style="list-style-type: none">✚ Aeronautics✚ Automotive, agricultural and earth moving machines✚ Education, judicial, civil status, and other certificates✚ Food equipment✚ Hand-made knitting✚ Industrial automation and robots	<ul style="list-style-type: none">✚ Light engineering✚ Medical and hospital documents✚ Medicine and pharmaceuticals✚ Notarial deeds and legal documents✚ Safety data sheets✚ Steel✚ Training courses✚ Work and safety clothing

I translate the texts using Word, Powerpoint or Excel and send them via e-mail, fax, Dropbox, or WeTransfer, as required by the customer. I use Trados Studio 2019 as CAT tool, which allows me to maintain the original page layout in most cases.

If specifically requested, I can supply sworn translations, according to the Italian law.

I have attended a number of training courses for professional update (full list available in the Italian section)

I am registered under my own VAT registration number.

I am a member of ANITI (Italian National Association of Interpreters and Translators) since 1997.
